Booking and Cancellation Policy

As a small group Tagalong tour operator often operating in remote locations, our business depends on maximising occupancy on our small group tours and cancellations often result in spots unable to be filled at short notice as well as impacting viability of running adventures with reduced numbers. Compounding the above is the COVID-19 situation which can change often, requiring us to amend at times, terms & conditions surrounding bookings directly or indirectly impacted by the COVID-19 Pandemic. Below outlines how bookings work & what happens in the event the trip is unable to go ahead, or you are no longer able to attend.

GENERAL BOOKING:

To book you can contact us via phone, email or through the website booking portal. All trip information is available on the website & can also be sent by email. Additional screening & contact will take place by email & regular updates provided in the lead up to adventures. Please note, only full trip payments are accepted via the online booking system, should you wish to pay a deposit you will need to contact us direct. Ideally, we will email an invoice out to you after discussing your questions & suitability for the chosen adventure.

Transferring Trip in event of sickness, cancellation or change of mind

If we can fill your spot with another paid client on your original chosen adventure, we will allow you to transfer your booking to an alternative available adventure in the next 12 months with the amount already paid credited to your new adventure. If there is a difference in trip costs where the new adventure is greater, then these additional costs will be applicable to your new booking. If no replacement adventures suit at time of occurrence, a credit note will apply for the period of 18 months from the date of the original booking. No refunds will apply to differences in amounts where the adventure cost is less than your original booking.
